

You are Unique

Our body contains the emotional and physical information of our ancestors.

It stores our and their emotional history, habits, traumas, stress, comforts, health, etc. That which our everyday mind does not recall, is embedded in your body. The body is our subconscious mind. We innately access the ancestral and universal information stored within each cell through stillness.

Our Unique soul Blue Print contains omniversal information. It knows that it is immortal, eternal and that it is a fractal of Source. This information is stored in the heart space. Here are our Subconscious and our Superconscious mind.

10% of our brain is logical and holds the information of the current lifetime, running the programs of our habits & emotions. The remaining 90% enables expanded states of being, as it is the motor that creates our reality, fueled by our unique individual needs, curiosity and free will.

Our mind is an interdimensional operator that has access to all states of consciousness by making new choices, thus creating a new way of being once it recalls the free will of our essence.

20% of our DNA is fixed, 80% is changeable. Our DNA holds the information of our ancestors and that of your Soul Blueprint and it responds to our thoughts, emotions, actions and environment. Change your thoughts, actions, emotions (and environment) to change your DNA.
